The News.

We have late California news by the overland mail, and various items of news by telegraph from New York.

The President's message was despatched by the overland mail to California early on Monday morning.

An American vessel has been seized at Honolulu for violating the revenue laws.

A cold-blooded murder was committed at Toronto on the 6th inst. The murderer was a telegraph operator in the employ of the Grand Trunk Railway.

The New York City Primary Election came off yesterday, and resulted in favor of the ticket nominated by the Republicans and Americans.

Congress was in session yesterday.

There was no important change in the New York breadstuffs market yesterday. Our own market is fair, with an advance in wheat, but pork is less active.

We had quite a flurry of snow yesterday morning and it became quite cold before evening.

THE ENGLISH HUNTING PARTY SAVE.—The St. Paul Minnesotian of Saturday last, December 4th, contains the following item:

Lord Cavendish, Mr. Ashley, and Lord Robert Grovesnor, about whose safety some fears were entertained, have arrived at Fort Garry, Red River, in perfect health.

As these gentlemen have been variously reported by the newspaper press as "massacred" by the Indians, "frozen in" at Pembina, "lost" on the prairies, and what not, it will be a comfort to their friends and acquaintances, on both sides the Atlantic, to know, that they are safe and sound at "Fort Garry."

OFFICIAL VOTE OF IOWA.—The following is the official vote cast for Congressmen in Iowa, at the late election:

| FIRST DISTRICT. | |
|---|---|
| Curtis, (R.) | 23,529 |
| Trimble, (D.) | 22,929 |
| Curtis' maj. | 600 |
| SECOND DISTRICT. | |
| Vandever, (R.) | 25,503 |
| Lellingwell, (R.) | 23,764 |
| Vandever's maj. | 2,739 |

Aggregate Republican majority in Congress 3,339, the vote on the State ticket was about the same.

THE GERMAN PRESS ON "ASSUMPTION."—All four of the German papers of this city, the Banner, See-Bote, Atlas and Grad Aus, are out, in a strong denunciation of the Debt Assumption Scheme. It is but reasonable to conclude that they faithfully reflect the sentiments of our German fellow-citizens.

The Mortara Outrage.

The Jewish communities throughout the world are stirred with grief and indignation at the abduction of a Jewish child from his parents by the "Holy Inquisition" at Bologna. The boy refuses to abjure the faith of his father, and the father, undaunted by indignities, threats, persecutions, still lifts his cry of anguish and entreaty in the ear not only of his tormentors but of Europe and the world. Large and influential meetings of the Jews have been held in England, Holland, France, and various parts of Germany, and also in several of the principal cities of the United States, and measures have been taken to solicit the interference of the various Christian powers with the Papal Government to secure redress for the afflicted Mortara.

The Univers, a leading Catholic journal of Paris, boldly defends the abduction, upon these grounds: "Mortara lived upon the territory of the church, under its protection and subject to its laws. The law forbids Jews to keep Christian servants in their houses;—but this Mortara has done. The law provides two cases in which the children of Jews can be baptized without the consent of their parents;—when in danger of death, or when abandoned by their parents.—Mortara's child was baptized when in danger of death. But baptism makes him a child of the Church; and the Head of the Church, within whose immediate domains he was baptised, owes it to the safety of the young Mortara's soul that he should place him under Christian protection and guard him against apostacy." Such, in substance, is the plea of the Univers in vindication of this outrage—the very plea by which the Inquisition has justified all its enormities. The New York Tablet (Roman Catholic) echoes this plea, but the Freeman's Journal endeavors to evade the whole question.

The Government at Washington declines to interfere, on the ground that Mortara is not a citizen of the United States, and that it cannot intermeddle with the internal administrations of other countries. This caution, however, must not be understood to apply to Mexico! We suspect that Secretary Cass has seen the Univers on diplomatic intervention, especially the following paragraph: "No one ever heard that the Christian and philanthropic governments of Europe made representations to the Government of the United States, with a view that the negroes of the slave States should in future be treated like Christians and human beings, and that at any rate when a family was sold it should be sold to one master."

But while the hands of our feeeral slaveocracy are tied upon every question of public freedom —though one word from Mr. Cass at Rome would restore Mortara to his parents—let the voice of the people be heard, in that united and determined public sentiment which is mightier than Popes, Kings, and Presidents.

THE EPIDEMIC OF 1858 AT NEW ORLEANS.—The yellow fever has about ceased its ravages at New Orleans, after prevailing with more or less severity since July. During the period extending from June 20 to Nov. 21, the official reports of interments show that the deaths in the city amounted to 3,296, of which 4,850 were of yellow fever and 3,446 of other diseases. The following table shows the progress of the disease:

| | Yellow Fr. | O'r dis. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Week ending June 27 | 2 | 128 | 130 |
| Week ending July 4 | 8 | 134 | 142 |
| Week ending July 11 | 9 | 139 | 148 |
| Week ending July 18 | 20 | 107 | 127 |
| Week ending July 25 | 25 | 162 | 187 |
| Week ending Aug. 1 | 70 | 120 | 190 |
| Week ending Aug. 8 | 140 | 166 | 306 |
| Week ending Aug. 15 | 286 | 171 | 457 |
| Week ending Aug. 22 | 312 | 165 | 477 |
| Week ending Aug. 29 | 402 | 184 | 586 |
| Week ending Sept. 5 | 449 | 197 | 646 |
| Week ending Sept. 12 | 472 | 164 | 636 |
| Week ending Sept. 19 | 474 | 168 | 642 |
| Week ending Sept. 26 | 444 | 175 | 619 |
| Week ending Oct. 3 | 380 | 160 | 540 |
| Week ending Oct. 10 | 390 | 147 | 537 |
| Week ending Oct. 17 | 308 | 182 | 490 |
| Week ending Oct. 24 | 266 | 144 | 410 |
| Week ending Oct. 31 | 174 | 164 | 338 |
| Week ending Nov. 7 | 130 | 133 | 269 |
| Week ending Nov. 14 | 66 | 164 | 230 |
| Week ending Nov. 21 | 17 | 172 | 189 |
| Total deaths | 4,850 | 3,446 | 8,296 |

It will be observed that the greater part of the morality was between July 25 and Nov. 14 which may be regarded as the beginning and the end of the fever's prevalence as an epidemic. During that period of 16 weeks or 112 days the deaths were from yellow fever, 4,794; other diseases, 2,766; total 7,560. This is at the average rate of about 473 per week, or about 67 per day. The average population of New Orleans, during the epidemic, was probably not more than 160,000, or about one-fourth the present population of Philadelphia. A corresponding mortality in Philadelphia would have given 268 deaths per day, or 1,876 per week! And yet this epidemic is regarded by the people of New Orleans as quite a mild one! It certainly was less severe than the epidemic of some former years.

The Grain and Pork Trade.

During the last week there have been received at Chicago 3,551 bbls flour, 22,020 bus wheat, 14,288 bus corn, 3,596 bus oats, and 6,461 bus barley, making 56,470 bus of grain. The total receipts of the season are now 474,474 bbls flour, 9,598,748 bus wheat, 8,566,864 bus corn, 1,882,018 bus oats, and 148,691 bus barley making a grand total of over twenty-two millions of bushels of grain, namely, 22,548,316 bushels.—At this time last year, the receipts amounted to 360,000 bbls flour, 9,200,000 bus wheat, 7,000,000 bus corn, and 1,200,000 bus oats, making 12,150,000 bus of grain, and showing an increase in the receipts of this year, of over three millions of bushels of grain.

There have been no shipments by the lake during the past week of any consequence; but there have been shipped by railroad, flour and grain amounting to nearly 50,000 bushels. The peculiar state of the grain market at the east just now, will account for such a small week's business. The total shipments of the season now amount to 382,000 bbls flour, 8,668,000 bus wheat, 7,630,000 bus corn, 1,525,000 bus oats, and 115,000 bus barley, making a grand total of nearly twenty millions of bushels of grain, namely, 19,678,000 bushels. At this time last year, the shipments amounted to 190,000 bbls flour, 8,900,000 bus wheat, 6,700,000 bus corn, and 200,000 bus oats, making 16,750,000 bus of grain, and showing an increase in the shipments of this year of over three millions of bushels of grain.

The grain market has manifested considerable improvement during the last week. There are more buyers of wheat in the market than sellers, and the latest sales of yesterday were at $1 08 for No. 1 red winter wheat in store; and 62@63c for No. 2 spring in store. Corn, too, is in good demand, and sells at 58c for No. 1 railroad corn in store; and 44@45c for new corn in the ear.

But the great attraction is in the hog market and provision trade. Live hogs sell at $4 87a$4 75 for light; and $5 00@5 25 for heavy, per 100 lbs live weight. Dressed hogs sell at $5 50@5 25 per 100 lbs according to size.

Prices in the provision market are firm, and the market has been quite active. But it was more quiet yesterday, on account of the disinclination of buyers to accede to sellers' rates.—Mess pork is held at $16 25@16 50, and lard at 10½@11c.—Chicago Times, Dec. 7.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.—A special meeting of our Board of Supervisors is called for Monday next, in this city. We presume that the chief business of the meeting is to decide about the new Court House and the House of Refuge. We venture, therefore, to suggest to the Supervisors:

First. That before changing the present site of the Court House building, they satisfy themselves that such change will not involve a loss of title to the lots on which they now stand and the fine park in front.

Second. That before purchasing new grounds for the House of Refuge, two and a half miles from the city, at $800 per acre, they inquire whether they cannot get equally good land at much less price, and whether both policy and economy do not dictate that the House of Refuge should be built on the "forty-acre tract," near the North Point, or on the County Farm (160 acres) in the town of Wauwatosa.

Third. That they re-consider the vote, raising only one mill for the School Tax, and make it two mills; the latter being the lowest amount necessary to keep our public schools open and in successful operation.

All these three things we respectfully and earnestly commend to the immediate attention of the Board of Supervisors.

FIRE!—Shortly after 3 o'clock, yesterday morning, a fire broke out in the Tremont House, near the foot of Huron street, Third Ward.—The alarm spread slowly, and it was a long time before the Engines got upon the ground and at work. Meantime the flames gained complete possession of the premises, and though the Firemen succeeded in confining them to the Tremont House, the building itself, with most of the furniture, was pretty much destroyed. The Tremont House was a frame structure, 40 feet front by 93 deep, and two and a half stories high. It was owned by VICTOR SCHULTE and occupied by THEODORE BILTY, and cost, with the furniture, from $7,000 to $8,000. A small portion only of the furniture was saved, and that mainly through the exertions of one, or two of the neighbors, and two, or three firemen. HENRY MIDDLETON, a member of Engine Co. No. 1, ran up through the fire and smoke, into the parlor on the second floor, and did not leave the room until he had got every article of furniture out of it.

There was an insurance of $3,000 on the furniture and $2,000 on the house, which will nearly cover the loss; though it does not re-imburse Mr. BILTY for his expenditures, and the fire throws him out of business. There was great delay and difficulty about getting water from the Lake, in consequence of the breakwater, or bulkhead, which has been built along the Lake shore. A trench, or well-hole should be dug, at the foot of Huron street, inside of the bulk-head, for the engines to take suction, in case of fire. This should be done without delay.

THE ALBANY BASEMENT.—The rooms in the basement of "the Albany," fronting on Michigan street and opposite the Newhall House, are occupied by Messrs. SPANGENBERG & FINCK, who keep one of the choicest and most extensive stocks of Wines, Liquors and Cigars, to be found in the West. They have for sale, too, all those luxuries of the table, Sardines, pates de foie gras, &c., &c., so much in demand by epicures. Their lunches, every morning, are artistically got up and of excellent quality. Above all, they are gentlemen who deal fairly with their customers and sell nothing that they are not willing to warrant.

BARK MASSILLON ASHORE.—By a private letter from Sheboygan to L. J. HIGBY, Esq., we learn that the bark Massillon went ashore on Tuesday last, on the east side of Lake Michigan, at Sleeping Bear Bay. We get no further particulars.

P. S. The propeller Michigan, which arrived from below last evening, reports having pulled off the Massillon on Saturday, and towed her into the Manitous.

LATE NEW YORK PAPERS.—We are indebted to MCSORLEY, the newsman, of Wisconsin street for the New York Tribune, ahead of the mail, as usual. "Mac" keeps all the New York dailies, as well as all the popular periodicals of the day, both foreign and domestic.

JOHNSON'S ATHENEUM.—When a man has contributed essentially to our happiness, we feel like acknowledging it. When any one, in our opinion, has established a claim to be considered a public benefactor, we want to speak a good word for him. Mr. JOHNSON, in his organization and management of the Atheneum deserves, we think, to be regarded as such. Perhaps those who decry dramatic representations, not so much because they consider them sinful as because they please the people, will not agree with us in this. That, however, is getting to be a class insignificantly small, thanks to the independence of American thought. People who delight in poetry, painting, music, elocution and the graces of the toilet separately displayed can hardly see a reason for anathemas against the combination and presentations of all these arts combined in a way to produce the most pleasing effects in their power as handmaids to each other.

The most of those of our cultivated classes who absent themselves from the theatres of our inland cities, do it rather from a doubt as to the respectability of the place, and its appointments, or fears as to the character of the management. In this respect the scruples of the most fastidious may be laid aside, as far as regards the Atheneum. It is fitted up in the most neat and tasteful style, and its arrangements for seats lights and ventilation are such as to ensure the highest degree of comfort and satisfaction to the audience, while the good judgment and taste of Mr. JOHNSON are too well known to need any other assurance as to the choice and standard character of the pieces presented.

The sterling comedy entitled "Still Waters Run Deep," was played excellently Monday, and last night, Mr. JOHNSON representing the principle character, John Mildmay. The play is one which possesses many admirable features its chief merits not being its dramatic excellence so much as its truthful portraiture of human nature. The leading parts were all well sustained, and the minor characters were mostly represented with good taste.

This evening Mr. HORWITZ, and his wife from the German Theatre, both appear at the Atheneum as a compliment to Mr. JOHNSON. The play to be presented is the Spectre Bridegroom in which Mr. HORWITZ will take the part of Nicodemus. He is an excellent actor, and should be greeted with a full house at the Atheneum. Mrs. HORWITZ will sing a couple of songs, and the performance will close with an amusing after piece.

DANGEROUS.—We have been urgently requested, by a number of respectable individuals, to call attention to the dangerous condition of the roof of the Summerfield Church—dangerous to pedestrians, and persons residing in the immediate vicinity of the building. The church stands close to the street, the eave of the roof overhanging the side-walk, on the south side, and on the other immediately adjoining are a couple of small dwellings. It is covered with a slate roof, and nearly every time that there is a strong wind more or less of the slates are blown off to the great peril of those who may chance to be near the building.

The walls do not extend above the eaves of the roof, so that there is nothing whatever to prevent the slates from sliding off whenever they become loose. Not many days ago a piece of slate weighing 6 or 8 pounds fell within a few feet of a lady and gentleman who were passing, and since then several other pieces have been blown off, one of which landed on the second lot north of the church quite close to the kitchen door of Mr. KINNE'S residence. A portion of the basement of the church is occupied as a private school, and the host of juveniles who attend it, run the risk of getting in the way of the falling slate during their daily play time. Something should be done, and done speedily to guard against this danger, else the Church may have to pay for somebody's head.

THE NEWHALL HOUSE.—The Wisconsin Chief has the following notice of this favorite Hotel:

The Newhall is not only one of the marked institutions of Milwaukee, but of our State and the North-west, as well. A feeling of pride came over us as we looked upward at this massive and beautiful structure. As a citizen of the State, we felt proud of its extent and magnificence. It is one of the most imposing and complete Hotel structures on the Continent. It is a model institution of the kind, and comprises within itself, complete and princely homes for a host of people, having under its roof all that is luxurious, convenient and substantial. As no cost was spared in the building and furnishing, so no pains or expense are now spared in its management, to have all things in keeping. The sleeping rooms are large, well furnished and cleanly. The dining room is an institution peculiar to itself, a spacious hall, and dotted over at neighborly distances, with oval tables, where families, parties, or groups of friends, can sit down easily together, none to disturb them.—This feature of the Newhall struck us as pleasantly home-like and old-fashioned.

A poor Editor who only now and then stumbles upon a warm meal, might be pardoned for a little enthusiasm in speaking of the fare at the Newhall. The gastric have a wonderful influence upon the class. But as our opinion was formed after only a few days of fasting we shall put it upon record. The most fastidious epicure will find all at the Newhall, that his appetite can crave. And what is more the less agreeable and important, prompt and kindly attentions from all in the establishment. The Newhall combines these requisites, a desideratum which travellers will not fail to make a note of. The waiter whose trying duty it was to assist us in making out a breakfast manifested no astonishment at finding a mammoth cave under our moustache.

Councillor McGrath said that the resolution had been introduced by him for the purpose of obtaining information for himself, for the Common Council and many citizens, who thought it was time a report should be made. On motion of Councillor Waldo, the amendment was concurred in, and the resolution adopted.

A resolution granting Miss Louisa Hull permission to occupy for a "soup house," the north basement room in the building owned by the city of Milwaukee, situated on Main street, in the Seventh Ward, and known as the "University building," until the fifteenth day of April, A. D., 1858, which the other board amended by inserting after the words "soup house," the words "the half of," and adding at the end of the last lines the following: "and the street commissioners are requested to have said room arranged and divided in accordance with this resolution," was concurred in as amended.

The chair presented a communication from the City Clerk, with a note of the Comptroller for $722 22, given by him in part payment for lot 11, block 11, Seventh Ward, the said note having been paid with the interest thereon; also, a discharge of the judgment (by the representatives of the late John Dunbar) against the Aldermen of the old First Ward, for $1,865, the same having been paid in full.

Councillor Teach, from the Committee on taxes, reported adverse to the petition of John Furlong, for the reduction of a certain tax, which was concurred in.

Several communications were presented and referred to the appropriate committees.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the Chief of Police to have whatever alterations were necessary, made in the Station House furnaces for warming the Police Court sufficiently.

Councillor Lapham offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Mayor be authorized to prepare a memorial to Congress, asking an appropriation to reimburse to this city the amount expended in the construction of the Harbor.

Councillor Busack presented a report from the Commissioners of Survey, recommending certain grades for the extended portions of North Beaubien, Lloyd, Hermann and Beer streets, in the Sixth Ward; also an ordinance to establish the grades of those streets in the Sixth Ward, which was read twice and laid over, according to the rules.

Several resolutions extending grading contracts were adopted.

The Board refused to grant the petition of Herman Reiss, for the remission of a fine of $6.

After the allowance of a number of accounts passed upon by the other branch of the Council, the Board adjourned to the next regular meeting.

ARRIVAL OF THE PROPELLER MICHIGAN.—The propeller Michigan, of the Northern Transportation Co's line, which was due here last week, arrived in port, from below, last evening. She experienced severe weather on her upward trip, but sustained no injury. She lay at the Manitous during the gale of Saturday night and Sunday. On Saturday the Michigan pulled off the bark Massilon, ashore at Sleeping Bear, east side of Lake Michigan, and towed her into the Manitous. The Michigan has a large cargo of merchandize for this place, after discharging which, she will proceed to Chicago and go into winter quarters.

ORPHAN ASYLUM FESTIVAL.—Our readers, we hope, will bear in mind that the Orphan Asylum Festival comes off at Albany Hall, to-day and to-morrow. Tickets of admission are for sale only at the door. The display of useful and ornamental articles, offered for sale, will be unusually large. WASHINGTON, Dec 7.

HOUSE.—Numerous bills heretofore passed by the Senate were severally referred, including those making appropriations for internal improvements.

Mr. Keim of Pennsylvania, in place of Mr. J. Glancy Jones, was sworn and took his seat.

The House took up the resolution requesting the President to take such steps as may be in his judgment best calculated to effect the speedy abrogation of the Clayton Bulwer Treaty; this resolution was at the last session reported from the Committee on Foreign affairs. Mr. Ritchie, of Pa., moved to lay the resolution on the table; negatived by 90 against 93. The resolution was then referred to the Committee of the whole on the State of the Union.

Mr. Billinghurst, of Wis., moved to reconsider the vote by which yesterday, Mr. Curtis

The Appointment of U. S. Collector.

As Mr. CLASON, the newly appointed U. S. Collector for this port, thinks that we dealt rather harshly and unfairly by him, in our comments upon the recent change in that office, we copy from the News of yesterday so much of the biographical sketch of Mr. C., as may enable our readers to judge more fully of his claims to official preferment. After expressing its entire concurrence in what the Sentinel said about Mr. SCHOEFFLER, the News turns to Mr. CLASON and says:

Mr. CLASON is a native of New York, and has never resided in Pennsylvania. It is now nearly twenty-five years since Mr. CLASON commenced publishing a democratic paper in New Jersey, of decided BUCHANAN proclivities. After many years of patient toil in that State, he removed to Ohio, where he continued to publish a democratic paper, and to advocate the claims of the present chief magistrate for the democratic nomination, which was finally given to him in 1856. During that long period of service, he naturally attracted the attention of prominent democratic politicians throughout the Union, including a somewhat notorious individual, who held the office of Postmaster of this city, &c., &c.

At this point of the narrative, the News is seized with one of those "Noonanic" spasms, to which it is unhappily subject, and goes off in the usual way. Recovering, after a while, its breath and temper, the News proceeds to say that at the solicitation of Mr. NOONAN and other prominent Democrats in Wisconsin, Mr. CLASON came on here in 1854, and in conjunction with Mr. HUNKEMAN and Mr. NOONAN, assumed the control and publication of the News. The biography proceeds—we make extracts simply—thus:

In 1856, the fact began to develope itself that there was a want of congeniality existing amongst the partners. Mr. CLASON remained true and steadfast to the fortunes of his old friend, Mr. BUCHANAN, and desired his nomination by the Cincinnatti convention, while the silent partner, who was then holding office under President PIERCE, insisted upon going in for his re-nomination.

This created a coldness between them, which was eventually followed by a dissolution of the firm, since which, Mr. CLASON has not embarked in the newspaper business.

Mr. CLASON has followed his chief "through evil as well as good report." The Sentinel says, however, that he has "no claim to the office."—Perhaps not. We may not understand what would constitute a "claim to office," under this Administration, but we have given some of the facts in the case above, &c.

If we should be called upon to express our opinion in the premises, our love of truth would compel us to admit that Mr. CLASON has pretty strong claims upon the present Administration. Nevertheless the Sentinel says he has "no claim to the office," but this is not of much consequence as long as the President thinks otherwise.

The last conclusion of the News is undoubtedly a correct one, since to the President and not to the Sentinel, belongs the dispensation of official patronage. And it seems but fair to add that if personal devotion to "Old Buck" for "twenty-five years," constitutes a good claim to Federal favor, Mr. CLASON's "papers" were first-rate. Our readers have now his case before them. In justice to the other party in interest, to-wit, the PEOPLE, for whose benefit all these Offices are created, we feel constrained to add—without any disposition to trend upon Mr. CLASON's corns—that the removal of Mr. SCHOEFFLER is almost universally regretted and the appointment of Mr. CLASON by no means generally approved. But the President, doubtless, cares no more about that, than he does for any other opinion of the people.

THE SPECIAL ELECTION IN BERKS COUNTY.—The official vote at the election in Berks county, last week, to fill the unexpired term of Mr. J. GLANCY JONES, (appointed by the President Minister to Austria as a reward for defying the People,) stood as follows:

|---|---|
| W. H. Keim, Tariff and anti-Lecompton, | 6,156 |
| Joel B. Wagner, Lecompton Democrat, | 5,687 |
| Keim's majority, | 469 |

In October, the majority against JONES was only 18. So the good work goes on!

A Discouraging Prospect—Do the People want Stock in such a "Scheme?"

Every new fact in relation to the Assumption Scheme, which is developed by its friends, only shows to a still greater extent how bad and ruinous it would be for the State to adopt it. The last argument in its behalf is given by a writer in the Racine News—and it is the poorest argument that could be adduced. To show that some relief is necessary, he presents these discouraging facts:

| | |
|---|---|
| The railroads in this State owe, in their own bonds, | $12,000,000 |
| Their floating debt is, | 3,000,000 |
| They have assumed town, city and county bonds, | 7,000,000 |
| Here is already | $22,000,000 |

Upon all this sum the interest is said by the same writer to be at least $2,000,000 per annum. But this is not all. He says:

"Add to this the $10,000,000 invested in the capital stock, a good part of which was probably borrowed, and is now owing by the stockholders, on which they are probably paying ten per cent. interest, and it adds another million of dollars to the interest account, to be paid annually on this class of debts."

This, says the writer, is the condition of the Wisconsin railroads, to-day, and he adds impolitely:

"Who will say that there is no necessity for relief, and who shall scruple about the means, if the result shall be to benefit the parties?"

Let everybody read this avowal of the totally and entirely bankrupt condition of the railroads of the State, and then say whether the State shall act so foolishly and recklessly as to become a sharer in the evils that have befallen them.—How there have become thus is easily explained. They have paid to the contractors twice what it was worth to build the roads, and for every $32,000 of money that they have borrowed they have loaned their bonds for $64,000. Thus, while these railroads should have cost but $16,000 a mile, the Company owes $64,000 a mile. That is what has made them worthless and bankrupt.

Now if the State assumes $7,000,000 of this indebtedness its "foot will be in" for the whole. Merely assuming this will not afford relief, for the railroads are as incapable of paying the remaining $25,000,000 as they are of paying the whole $32,000,000. They will soon be after other "necessary" relief, and there will be no hold up till every dollar of railroad indebtedness is owed by the State.—Madison Argus and Democrat.

OUR MAIL ARRANGEMENTS.—The original schedule time from La Crosse to St. Paul had been fixed by the Department at 3½ days. The time has been fixed now to two days, which was in reality the real time made by contractor Burbank's line.

The negligent Post Officers and Agents at Chicago, either intentionally or ignorantly, continue to send the mails up to Prairie du Chien, instead of to La Crosse. By this bad management, Mr. Burbank's Agent only finds a mail at La Crosse every other day, it having been delayed one entire day by being sent to and from Prairie du Chien. Mr. Burbank and the Post Masters at La Crosse and St. Paul have written to the Department about it. In a few days it will, no doubt, be corrected.—St. Paul Minnesotian.

THE STATE PRINTING NOT YET DETERMINED.—There is a current impression that the question of the State Printing is determined, and that the Patriot is to do it for the ensuing two years. This is by no means settled. Mr. Ross has the lowest bid. The Commissioners have drawn up a contract, which Mr. Ross has signed; but before that contract is finally consummated, he must give security in the sum of $40,000, conditioned for the faithful performance of it. The bond although several days have elapsed since the signing of the contract, has not yet been presented, and the Commissioners have not yet affixed their signature to the contract.—Madison Journal.

The Mortara Case—Reply to the Sec Note.

DEAR SIR BOYD:—I have heard, with the greatest pleasure, your howling about the sympathy expressed by the Sentinel and everywhere, for the Jewish child named MORTARA; because the wild beasts do also howl if it is tried to take the prey from them. O, excellent friend of the Jesuits! you are very angry, that a Jewish child creates such a great sensation; but do not you know, that all the catholics kneel before a Jewish child and adore a Jewish woman for about 1,600 years? Do not you believe that the Jewish child Jesus is sitting at the right hand of God? Why do you speak like a barbarian and consider the rape of a Jewish child as a trifle?—But, friend, take off your Jesuitical spectacles, and you will comprehend that the point in question is not about one single violent action, but about a most holy principle of religious liberty and of the rights of human nature.

The principle which the Pope Pio Nono announced, must have a demoralizing influence upon the catholic citizens, who are residing in great numbers in the United States. For if sterling of conscience, and kidnapping, as soon as a secret bigotism has taken place by any one, are allowed by the Pope, why should or dare any catholic thief or robber be arrested or punished? If parents may be robbed, under color of religion, of their greatest joy and hope, nay, of the most precious treasure they possess, then must consequently all other robberies be considered as merely trifles, not worth while to speak of them. And to this shall our government be silent?

Shall not we tread on a serpent's head, which spreads the poison of violence in all the States of the Union? "Qui tacet jacet" said the old Roman, and this is also true in our days and at any time. Hence it is highly necessary that our government should pronounce distinctly its disapprobation of the mentioned outrageous Papal principle. Continue, true Papist, to revile and abuse, in your nocturnal productions, all who have spoken energetically for religious liberty, equality, law and justice, and praise hierarchy, kidnapping, restraint of conscience and oppression of universal liberty; for your praise will surely rescue us from their claws.

AN AMERICAN CITIZEN.

*Who is silent admits.

Times in Ozaukee County.

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

FREDONIA, OZAUKEE CO., WIS., NOV. 29.

MR. EDITOR:—Here, in the Egypt of Wisconsin, we live in a County where the Democratic Party holds undisputed and undivided rule. Of course Democratic economy and frugality, where they have prevailed for five years without any interruption, must have reduced one taxes to mere pittances, for who ever heard of Democratic waste, extravagance, plunder, treasury robbery, or the like? There are seven towns in our county, each about six miles square, and our population is almost all agricultural. We have undertaken no public works for which to increase taxes. Our population numbers about fifteen thousand. We have few paupers to provide for, indeed we have very little need of any tax save to pay officers and the expense of tax-collecting. What people so happy as we!—Hold, not so fast! Our frugal Democratic rulers have contrived to tax us this year over $15,000. Can you, Mr. Editor, explain how it is that we are taxed that amount, while Washington Co., adjoining us, twice as large as we, raises a tax of only $10,000? Does Democratic economy mean the economy of the officers to get all the people's money into their own pockets. In my next I'll show you how liberal the officers are with the treasury. B.

Circular of the State Treasurer—Items for the Counties to Remember.

Mr. Hastings, the State Treasurer, has recently issued a circular to the Treasurers of the several counties, reminding them of their duties under the existing laws. The following is a summary of the requirements of the statutes respecting the collection and payment of the State tax:

1. The Town Treasurers must pay the State tax to the County Treasurer in gold and silver.

2. On or before the first Monday in February, the County Treasurers must pay to the State Treasurer the amount of the State tax charged to their respective counties, in gold or silver coin.

3. In case the County Treasurer fails to pay over the money in this manner for the space of ten days, he forfeits to the State 20 per cent of the amount. In case he fails to do so within 30 days after the prescribed time, he forfeits his office and is deemed a public defaulter.

4. If a county fails, neglects or refuses to pay over its tax due the State, after thirty days, such county shall be charged at the rate of twenty-five per cent. per annum on the same amount due until it is paid.

5. Each County Treasurer is required to file on oath or affirmation with the State Treasurer, at the time the State tax is due, that he has paid in the whole amount that has come into his hands, specifying the amount received from each town and city, and if he fails to file such oath and pay in the whole amount of State tax that has come into his hands at that time, he shall be subject to a penalty of one thousand dollars, which shall be collected on the official bond of treasurer such.

6. No county shall draw any money from the State Treasury, either School money, Swamp Land Fund or other moneys, while it remains indebted to the State.

These provisions of law seem sufficiently stringent to secure the prompt payment of the State tax hereafter.—State Journal.

A TOUCH OF REALITY AND A BIT OF ROMANCE.—Mr. H. B. S Williams, of Hickory Springs, Fayette County, Tenn., sent the following interesting communication to the Memphis Avalanche, on the 12th instant:

"On one of those cold rainy nights just passed, a couple of sprightly and hardy-looking little Yankee boys, bare-footed, badly clad, and without budget, about 11 and 13 years of age, calling themselves John and Thomas Anderson, brothers, all the way from the North, came to my residence in search, as they said, of a home and work, and readily finding both, they are now with me, the happiest little fellows you ever saw. Their story is as full of adventure as it is affecting. They hail from the town of Patterson, N. J., and say they are factory boys, and orphans; that their father died a long time ago, and their mother, nearly two years since, leaving them working in a cotton factory, without friends or relations thereabouts—having no brothers, and an only sister, Martha, who married one Frederick Green, of whom they have heard nothing for a long time, and know not where they are; that about two months since, being badly treated, the struck out for the South, without a cent of money. They worked their way along, assisted by railroad conductors and steamboat captains, until reaching Memphis, where they turned but a little while, starting out on foot on the track of the Memphis and Ohio Railroad, which they followed up to the Wythe Depot, and meeting there a small negro boy of mine, who hearing their story, politely, and in the spirit of true Southern Hospitality, invited them along with him to his master's house."

A DISPENSATION FROM THE POPE.—The Washington correspondent of the Traveler, has the following relative to a dispensation granted by the Pope, through American official influence:

"While the papers are full of comments on Gen. Cass's letter of refusal to interfere in the Mortara affair, on the ground that "it is the settled policy of the United States to abstain from all interference in the internal concerns of other countries," it may be well to "ventilate" a rumor now current in this city. It is said that the daughter of a highly respectable family of this city (in which, by the way, ex-President Pierce was quite intimate,) took the veil at the convent, in the adjacent city of Georgetown, and that after a while she found the vows distasteful, and that by the personal, if not the official, interference of President Pierce, Major Lewis Cass, jr., Minister near the Court of Rome, was induced to interest himself in the matter, and by his personal intercession with the Pope, to obtain a "dispensation," which has released the young nun from her vows, and has allowed her to again enter the world. If this be so, and it has obtained credence among many, it would appear that "intervention" can be practiced whenever there is sufficient occasion for its exercise."

☞ A pencilled paragraph that we like is the following: To keep Spring in your heart, learn to sing. There is a great deal of merit in melody—more merit than most people are aware of. A cobbler who smoothes his waxed ends with Bonnie Doon or Roslin Castle, will do as much work in a day as a cordwainer, given to "cursing" and ill-nature, will perform in a week.—Songs are like sunshine—they run to cheerfulness; and so fill up your bosom with buoyancy for the time being, that you feel like a yard of June, or an acre lot filled with violets and bobolinks. Try it on and see.

Bears—Thirty-Two Killed in Three Months.

J. F. STONE and GEO. BUCKMAN, are farmers living in the town of "Bridge Creek," in this county, and are both well known to the business men of Eau Claire—and especially Mr. STONE, who is the Coroner elect of our county—who know them to be men on whose statements they can rely. This little introduction of the bear-killers to our readers, we believe to be essentially necessary to the proper appreciation of the subjoined statements; and although some of said statements may not seem entirely plausible, the inferences are honestly drawn, and are, on our own part, believe them correct. Messrs. Stone and Buckman called upon us and related the following:

From the 15th of August, of the present year, up to the latter part of October, they shot and trapped 32 bears, 9 wolves and 1 wildcat. One day in every four was devoted to hunting. A large bear was caught in the trap, on the 15th of September, which weighed 400; on finding himself fast in the trap, he started off with it and the log attached, and coming to a fallen tree, hammered the trap on the tree for the purpose of liberating himself. This not proving successful, he proceeded to a small oak,—measuring about eight inches through,—up which he went, winding the chain around it in his ascent, and cut off all branches within his reach, splitting his nails in such a manner that he could no longer retain his hold, and he fell suspended by the right foot, where he was found dead by Mr. STONE.

About the first of October, a large bear carried off the trap and a piece of wood about 12 feet long and weighing about 40 pounds, and which was attached to the trap for the purpose of making a "trail." About 20 rods from where the bear started with the trap was a marsh, to which place he was tracked, and about half way across, when the trail disappeared, and a track as if a man had walked through, was visible. The supposition is, that the bear becoming tired of dragging the heavy stick through the coarse tall grass and weeds, picked it up in his arms and carried it through. The trail commencing on the other side of the marsh, confirms the supposition. Soon after, the chain of the trap became entangled in a bunch of alders, where his further progress was impeded.

In one instance the trap was lifted from the "bed" and carried 12 to 15 feet and laid upon the end of a log, without snapping. On the next night the chain was coiled in the spot where the trap had been set the night previous, and the trap put 3 feet one side, and the bear again attempting to remove it for the purpose of getting the bait, and supposing it to be in the same place, got caught by the hind foot.

The wolves attacked a bear in the trap, smashing in his skull, and almost eating him up.—Messrs. Stone and Buckman inform us that they can trap bears by the hind feet as well as by the fore, and which we understand is very difficult, as the bear is a very suspicious animal, and always examines with carefulness what his instinct leads him to think dangerous allurements. The scalps of 32 bears have been preserved by the hunters, and can be seen by those who may have occasion to be in the vicinity.

We give a short account of an elk hunt, which, although rather old, is yet interesting, as showing what has been done during the present year: On the first day of January, Mr. R. SCOTT, of Bridge Creek, discovered a herd of 60 elk, and immediately informed Messrs Stone and Buckman, and at 6 o'clock next morning, the party started on the trail, and came in sight of the herd about 10 o'clock of the same day, when some three miles below Osseo, on the Beef river, in Buffalo county, where they shot two, which they dressed and gave in charge of the teamster in attendance. Starting again in pursuit, about sundown they came in sight of the herd, and shot two more, when they halted for the teamster, and encamped for the night, and at day break followed up the trail.

About 10 o'clock they overtook an elk which had had its leg broken by a rifle ball, and between 2 and 3 o'clock the herd again came in sight, when three more fell; in one hour after they again got sight of the elk, when one was killed by Mr Stone, at a distance of 80 rods. The bead then took to the river, which it crossed, thus preventing further pursuit. The teamster then coming up, the party encamped for the night, and returned home next day, with eight dressed elk, weighing 2,000 pounds.

Two men who saw the elk cross the river, followed them, and found two dead—they were wounded by Mr. Stone's party on the day previous, but the river prevented their being followed and taken. Another such herd of elk will hardly ever make their appearance in this county again.—Eau Claire Free, Dec. 2.

Fraser River—Pacific Railroad—Progress of Victoria.

The Victoria correspondent of the N. Y. Herald furnishes the following interesting information from that region:

We are in a high state of excitement at this place, both in consequence of the continued discovery of rich gold placers in our vicinity on Fraser River, and the arrival here in our waters of an English fleet with two hundred Royal Engineers, under Capt. Parsons, who are preparing for a survey of a line through British Columbia for a railroad from Fraser River to Halifax.—This party is to co-operate across the Rocky Mountains with a party that started from Montreal last spring, and who will winter this year on the south fork of the Sascatchewan. The country is represented as eminently practicable, and the idea of extreme cold and deep snows is laughed at by the Hudson Bay Company, and others who know the character of the country, and who say that they are aware that this frozen idea has already frightened Brother Jonathan off a Northern track.

The British ship Ganges, carrying 74 guns, the Satellite, carrying 16, and the Plumper, carrying 50 guns, are now in the harbor, sent out to protect English interests and English laws during the gold excitement on Frezer River. The news from the mines is now encouraging, and four thousand miners have gone to work to build their houses and homes and commence preparing for the winter at Forts Hope, Yale and Langley, and there is every prospect of these minds yielding richly during the winter seasons. Our interests here and the richness of the mines have been greatly underrated by persons whose interests and prejudice it was to do so; but we have evidence enough before us to convince all that gold to a great extent exists throughout this whole region. The only thing we now need is a large, hardy overland emigration, and soon we will build up in the Northwest a second California.

Victoria now contains some seven thousand people, and the large amount of shipping in the harbor, the busy scenes of trade, the grading of streets and the rush of business, all bespeak a large and growing city. The British ship Ganges brought out 200 troops under Col. Hawkins, who are now engaged in building barracks at this place. The Royal Engineers, under Capt. Parsons, who have just arrived from England, will remain here until early spring, when, having completed their outfits and preparations, they will start on their overland trip for a survey of a railroad line to Halifax.

NARROW ESCAPE.—Yesterday afternoon, as the Boston express train from New York was approaching Rochester, a pair of horses, driven to a light buggy containing two young men, attempted to cross the track at a crossing at that point, when they were struck by the locomotive with considerable force. The train was stopped as soon as possible, when it was found that the horses had been thrown clear off the track and safely landed in the road, while the wagon containing the young men, was lodged on the "bumper" below the head-light, in which condition they had been carried nearly a mile. The wagon, of course, was badly damaged, but neither of the men was seriously hurt. As soon as the train stopped, one of them jumped to the ground without a scratch, while the other was helped off and taken to the station-house, when it was found that he had received only a slight injury on his forehead by coming in contact with the head-light, which was harder than his head.—We are informed that the two men were racing at the time with another team which was ahead of them, and they were so anxious to come in first that they forgot about the approaching train. They got off lucky this time, and we hope they will learn by it to use better judgment in the future.—New Haven Journal, Dec. 2.

THE LADIES OF JAPAN IN THE STEREOSCOPE.—A gentleman who returned not long since from Japan, called upon us a few days since, for the purpose of showing us some sketches of Japan and its people, which he had mounted for the stereoscope according to the manner described by us in the articles on Mr. Sung's invention. One of the sketches gave an exceedingly pretty view of Nagasaki; but the more interesting pictures were those of a group of female. Their faces are very attractive, from the expression of gentleness, which is their chief characteristic. We are sorry, however, to have to destroy the pleasing illusion which exists as to their innocence.—If we judge them from our standard, they are the most immoral on the face of the earth. The gentleman referred to, assures us that the women who bring you tea in the public gardens (which abound) are, without any exception whatever, women of loose character. At Nipon, it is difficult even to guess at their number, so numerous are they. This class of women are not looked upon with the same contempt as here; on the contrary, they frequently make good marriages, and are invariably well and kindly treated; and in cases where they have been purchased by the keepers of such houses from their parents, when young, these men, if the girls give promise of beauty, expend considerable sums on their education, and in teaching them various accomplishments.—The Photographic News.

Correspondence of the N. Y. Tribune.

The Underground Railroad, South.

WHEELING, V., Nov. 29, '58.

The public are frequently informed of travelling on the Underground Railroad; but these journeys are always reported as proceeding Northward. The trips in the Southern direction are seldom reported. Some account of one I proceed to lay before your readers.

About six years ago, a tavern-keeper in the City of Wheeling, Va., had four or five negroes, male and female, living about his house and working in his stables and kitchen. Only one of them—a blind man—was believed to be a slave; the others were young, and were understood to be bound to him, either by the County Court or their former guardians, for a term of years, after which they would be free. One of these negroes, a boy named Alick, disappeared suddenly. Various surmises existed about his fate. At length the fact leaked out that his master had sent him down the Mississippi River by an agent and sold him into life Slavery. Legal proceedings were instituted against the tavern-keeper, which were terminated by the restoration of Alick from captivity, and his liberation from further servitude with the tavern-keeper.

Some weeks ago, a Sheriff's execution was laid upon the property of the tavern keeper at the suit of a younger brother. A compromise was effected between the contending brothers, by which the tavern-keeper agreed to vacate the premises. Meantime, a negro woman named Mag who worked in the kitchen, about 20 years old, with her two children, disappeared mysteriously. What has become of Mag? This question was asked by the neighbors after her departure, but no satisfactory answer was obtained. The children of Mag exhibit prima facie evidence of being born to a white man. Parties who know, state positively that Mag is not a slave, but was bound to the tavern-keeper for six years, and this time has long expired. If this be true, and I know no reason to doubt it, Mag and her children were free. I would also state that the tavern-keeper never claimed Mag as a slave.

A traveler coming up the Ohio River toward Wheeling, has brought some information about Mag. He states that she was decoyed from her home at the instance of her master, by the information that she and her children were about to be sold for debt. That if she would go down to Moundsville (twelve miles below Wheeling on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad) on the cars, she could escape from thence across the Ohio River into Ohio, and get a good situation. She accordingly fled with her children, believing she was escaping from Slavery and her master's whip by a wholly private and concerted plot.

Alas, for a negro's expectation? Arrived at Moundsville, she was attended by her conductor, and taken into a ferry boat. But the moment she went on board she discovered the steamer was bound south, and was made a prisoner with her children. The boat was loaded from her moorings, and, amid the scenes of Mag, steamed off toward the south. At Portsmouth, Ohio, where the boat stopped for coal, Mag made an abortive effort to escape. The conductor claimed ownership, and she was retained in custody. Onward the boat proceeded, and arrived in Kentucky, where Mag and her children were transferred into hopeless Slavery. If the tavern keeper's wife is now asked, "Where is Mag?" she answers, significantly, "in my pocket."

I would here ask, if Mag really were a slave, why resort to this underhand way of disposing of her? It is as easy to sell and transport slaves here as it is to sell and convey a barrel of whiskey. If all things are right, why smuggle them thus? M. L.

NERVOUS AND RHEUMATIC AFFECTIONS—HOLLAND BITTERS.—"We have used this medicine ourselves and in many cases with the greatest success. The most celebrated of our German Physicians are recommending it. During this changeable weather, while most persons are troubled with nervous and rheumatic affections, it will be found a valuable remedy."—State Zeitung.

Mrs. Porter, the Spiritual Medium, before the Mayor on a Charge of Fortune-Telling.

Mrs. Harriet K. Porter, a spiritual medium of considerable notoriety, was arrested on a charge of fortune-telling, a few weeks since. An examination in the case was to have taken place before the Mayor at 10 o'clock this morning, and at that hour Mrs. Porter, her mother, husband and counsel, Mr. Dresser, made their appearance and declared themselves ready to answer the charge. The complainant, however, did not appear, and the Mayor said he should have to dismiss the case.

Mr. Dresser was anxious to have an investigation. He wished to clear his client of the imputation which the charge cast upon her; he was prepared to show that she was not guilty of sorcery or fortune telling; that she was a spiritual medium and clairvoyant, and that in the prosecution of her profession she violates no statute. He wished the case to stand or fall upon its merits, and proposed to discuss the subject; but the Mayor not being anxious to hear an argument in favor of spiritualism, when it was unnecessary to the point before him, dismissed the case and discharged the ball, and the accused left the hall in the best of humor.

Mrs. Porter formerly figured largely in spiritual prints and her performances were pointed to by spiritualists as conclusive proof of the supermundane origin of spiritual manifestations. She is said to have prophesied the loss of the Pacific, previous to her departure on the fatal voyage; but, unfortunately for her fame as a prophet, the prediction, we believe, did not transpire until it was certain the ill starred vessel was lost.—Subsequently she ventured upon a bold experiment, and prophesied the destruction by fire of the Ericsson, but specified no date further than that it would occur on Friday. This prediction was at the time published in the Evening Post; but as it was uttered over two years ago, and the vessel has thus far escaped the fate pronounced against her, it is probable she will win no laurels from the experiment.

Latterly the leading spiritualists have disclaimed Mrs. Porter, and through their organ denounced her as a person in whom they had no confidence. They complained that she was making too much money out of the business; and her terms certainly indicate that in pursuing the spiritual she has not neglected the temporal.—N. Y. Post.

A HERO.—The recent courageous and even desperate act of Capt. Brooks, keeper of the Faulkner's Island Light, in rescuing the captain, his wife and crew, from a wreck, on Long Island Sound, deserves more than a passing notice. It will be remembered that Faulkner's Island itself is more than two miles from land, and that its only inhabitants are the keeper of the light house and his family, Capt. Oliver N. Brooks. The wreck lay upon Goose Island, some two miles from this; but Capt. Brooks could see with his glass, the person in the rigging, and the sea lashed into tremendous fury, making a breach high over its decks, and threatening instant destruction. It was too sad a sight for a brave man to endure; and provided as he was by Government with nothing but a small sail boat to go between the island and the main land, he would have been fully justified in leaving them to a fate horrible to think of. His wife was on the shore, and he was alone with his family of little children; but telling them of the peril he was about to assume—a fearful peril, from which he might never return—he kissed them, and calling upon God to protect them, and bless his endeavor, he jumped into his frail skiff, and steered boldly into the storm and the billows. Those on board saw the attempt, and even in their agony wondered at his boldness, predicted a failure, and grieved at what they considered an unnecessary sacrifice. But still the brave man, relying upon Providence, kept up his heart and hopes, and although every wave threatened him with destruction, he reached at last the wreck, and hailed the desponding crew with words of cheer By the most skillful management of his boat, now shooting past, and once over the very deck itself, he at last managed to pick them off, one at a time, and then turned toward the shore. But it was only by constant bailing and tremendous efforts that the boat was kept above water and at last reached the island, with its inmates exhausted, and nearly dead with hunger and exposure.

On the shore, waiting for their father, were the little children of Capt. Brooks, who, with tears and screams of joy, saw the boat tossed violently upon the land by the angry waves, with its overtasked load of rescued mariners, who were immediately transferred to the light-house residence, and made welcome and comfortable. A gentleman familiar with the circumstance, and also with the dangers of the sea, assures us that it was this noble man's daring feat, ever read of, that the boat was entirely unfit for such a service, and that nothing but unrivalled coolness, great skill as a boatman, and the hand of Providence over all, made the effort successful. Capt. B. thought it an unequal chance that he should be lost; though, with a proper life or surf boat, he wouldn't have hesitated an instant about going to the wreck when he first discovered the danger, and might have saved the life of the little girl—the captain's child of three years—who fell from his exhausted arms into the sea, half an hour before Capt. B. reached the wreck. We have known Capt. Brooks for several years as one of the most faithful men in the lighthouse service, and means will be taken to call the attention of the Government to his merits, and hope that he may be provided with a boat suitable for the kind of service he is so frequently called upon to enter. There should be also, at such an exposed point, an assistant keeper; for had Mr. Brooks been lost in his efforts to save the crew of this vessel, there would have been missing to the mariner in Long Island Sound, on that night, the ever-steady beacon-light of Faulkner's Island. If ever hero deserved the public reward of bravery, that man is Oliver N. Brooks, the solitary watcher on a sea-girt island.—New Haven Register.

AN INSTANCE OF REMARKABLE COOLNESS.—The Knickerbocker Magazine picks up a good many good things. In the December number we find a story which runs thus: Judge B., of New Haven is a talented lawyer, and a great wag.—He has a son Sam, a graceless wight, witty, and like his father, fond of mint juleps and other palatable "fluids." The father and son were on a visit to Niagara Falls. Each was anxious to "take a nip," but one for example, and the other in deference to hurting the old man's feelings equally unwilling to drink in the other's presence.—"Sam," said the Judge, "I'll take a short walk—be back shortly." "All right," replied Sam, and after seeing the old gentleman safely round the corner, he walked out quickly, and ordered a julep at the bar-room. While in concocto, the Judge entered, and (Sam just then being back of a newspaper, and consequently viewing though viewless) ordered a julep. The second was compounded, and the Judge was just adjusting the tube for a cooling draught, when Sam stepped up, and taking up his glass, requested the bartender to take his pay for both juleps from the bill the old gentleman had handed out to him! The surprise of the Judge was only equalled by his admiration for his son's coolness; and he exclaimed, "Sam! Sam—you need no julep to cool you!" Sam allowed that he did.

TO THE PUBLIC.

In answer to the numerous letters addressed to me on the subject of the Mustang Liniment, I would say that I have had no connection with that article for several years. It was invented by me, and while under my control and supervision, was universally accepted by the public, as the best liniment in the world. In 1854 I sold out my interest in it to other parties, and since that time it has passed through the hands of several persons, most of whom have been so unscrupulous as to manufacture it of inferior and cheaper articles, and thus to entirely destroy its value as a medical remedy, resulting for success in selling to its former high established reputation. The present proprietors have gone so far as to substitute other articles in its composition for those in the original prescription, so that the Mustang Liniment now retailed possesses no one of the peculiar characteristics of the genuine article, as it was originally invented and manufactured by me. There parties, to enable themselves with more facility to feist their worthless and injurious article on the public, call it my name as its author, calling it "Bragg's" Mustang Liniment, and cautioning the public to beware of any other Bragg's Liniment as an imposition. This is done with a view of deceiving the public, against my CELEBRATED ARCTIC LINIMENT, an article more respectively known as by me, and possessing all the virtues of the original Mustang, with some improvements—the result of experience and later discoveries—and is manufactured by Bragg & Burrowes, which firm is composed of my son, Oliver T. Bragg, and Michael Burrowes. This article is superior in many respects to the Mustang, when it was put up for sale, and in order to establish its character superior to the article now vended as the Mustang Liniment. It is also the only liniment manufactured to which my name is appended by my authority or consent. In conclusion, I would myself respectfully call the attention of the old friends of using the Mustang Liniment now vended, and especially after this public disclaimer of any connection with its proprietorship or manufacture, to its respectability.

COMMERCIAL & FINANCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY SENTINEL,
Tuesday Evening, Dec. 7, 1858.

MONEY MATTERS—Currency is a little easier, but not very plenty, and Exchange remains steady at 1 per cent, with an abundant supply on the market. The Banks are discounting all the strictly good business paper offering at the usual rate, 10 per cent., and there is not a very extensive call for loans on the street. Money can be obtained with ease of the brokers, and outside parties at the usual short loan rates.

The Cincinnati Gazette, of Monday, says:

The stagnation in the hog market consequent on the unfavorable weather, had the effect to diminish largely the demand for money on Saturday, and matters were easier than previously for the week. On Monday two generally considered that there were permanent changes in favor of borrowers. There was a more liberal supply of currency, with indications of a continued increase from this time forward. Drafts were accepted at or nearly all the acceptable paper offered by their customers, at 1-812 per cent., and good bills passed readily at equal to 9@10 per cent., the latter the leading figures for fashions.

COMMERCIAL.—The wheat market was quite firm to-day and extra club advanced 8@8c, while No. 1 was quite firm, at yesterday's quotations, with rather an upward tendency. This movement is attributable, no doubt, to the extreme lightness of receipts. Oats remain firm, and are rather scarce, as is also rye. There is a little more enquiry for corn, which remains, however, as last reported. The provision market is rather dull, buyers not being disposed to come up to the scratch, and holders refusing to accede any. The same features seem to characterize the hog market, receipts being large and buyers endeavoring to produce a decline. The weather, however, is improving and sellers evince no disposition to moderate their views. The sales show a range of prices from $5 to $6, hogs averaging 240 or upward being the latter price.

The Cincinnati pork and provision market is thus reported in the Gazette, of Monday:

The course of the trade to-day will depend a good deal on the receipts. Dealers are now beginning to manifest considerable tenderness on this point, and heavy arrivals following upon the liberal sales of Friday and Saturday would influence their action materially. The business of the season, including Saturday, foot up as follows:

Received to Nov. 30.....164,161
Wednesday.....7,500
Thursday.....15,500
Friday.....12,000
Saturday.....1,550
Total.....210,161

The receipts at Louisville up to Friday night were 208,-915, giving a total for the two places of packing, to date, of 419,076 short of the business of the whole of last season. Of this number there will be, according to the latest estimates, 17,000 packed around the Falls, leaving 197,000 for Cincinnati to furnish.

There was a stand off in the hog market on Saturday. The receipts were liberal and the weather too warm for either killing or packing, consequently buyers were not disposed to do anything in the way of purchasing, unless great inducements were offered in the way of prices. Holders, on the other side, anticipating a favorable change in the weather, and in view of the firmness exhibited in provincial and other markets, held on in the way the day passed over without a sale worthy of note.

There was a lively demand for mess pork, with sales of 5 000 bbls for future delivery at $11,25, and after the receipt of the noon report for short ribs New York, which was out on Change, holders advanced to $11,50. Bulk meat brought 5¾@5¾c for shoulders and sides, for February delivery. Lard, on the spot, sold at 10¾all, and for February at 11¾c.

The following is a statement of the amount of flour and grain in store at Chicago, on the 4th:

MARINE INTELLIGENCE.

THE QUICKEST YET.—The schooner Clipper City, Capt. Landen, owned by A. L. McCrea, of this city, made the round trip from McCrea's Pier, (six miles north of this port) to Chicago and back, in forty hours! We believe the North made the round trip from this port in the same time. But the Clipper went further north, and therefore ought to be entitled to the "belt." There's nothing strange in the act of going to Chicago and back in forty hours; but these vessels unload large cargoes of wood in the meantime.—Sheboygan Journal, Dec 4.

THE RIVER CLOSED UP.—On Thursday night, just eighteen days after the last boat left our levee, the ice closed up in the river opposite St. Paul. This is a longer interval between two events than ever before happened, we believe.—St. Paul Minnesotian, Dec 4.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE

RICHEST DIADEM

EVER

Worn by Kings or Emperors.

WHAT? WHY A BEAUTIFUL HEAD OF HAIR.

Because it is the ornament God Himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly on the glowing cheek, the eye may be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shrivelled, harsh and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with thingy, nature will have more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following and judge. The writer of the first is the ordinary Mayor of New York.

DR. WOOD— NEW YORK, April 19th, 1858.

Dear Sir: Permit me to express to you the obligation I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color. About the time of my arrival in the United States it rapidly became thin, and by the use of the application of your Hair Restorative, it soon recovered its former hue. I consider your Hair Restorative even a very wonderful invention—quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dearsir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

"Dryden's or Gayslitzdyer."

WELSH NEWSPAPER OFFICE, }
113 Main st., Cincinnati, April 19, 1858. }

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who combed it dry (often her hair little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color; but to her, as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hair back to brown, at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change in their hair.

CHARLES GILMAN.

NEW YORK, July 25, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative, as being a most meritorious article in every row. Since using it all destructive signs of hair and whiskers, which were almost white, have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them entirely. It has also completely relieved my wife of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely.

J. G. KILEY.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications restored the hair to its former color. It has grown on, and turned back to its former color, black. At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all.

J. D. HOSS.

Oblieago, Ill., May 1, 1857.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 8 sizes, viz: large, medium and small; the small holds ¾ pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least 50 per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent more in proportion, and retails for $3.
